CPCI Announces 2018 Real Estate Development Award of Excellence Winner

August 31, 2018 – Ottawa, Ontario – The Canadian Precast/Prestressed Concrete Institute (CPCI) will be presenting the 2018 CPCI Real Estate Development Award of Excellence to a deserving developer/ owner who has helped advance the Canadian precast prestressed concrete industry, at the CPCI Partners Awards of Excellence Reception and Dinner being held October 17, 2018 in Kelowna, BC.

CPCI is pleased to announce that Worman was selected as the recipient of the 2018 CPCI Real Estate Development Award of Excellence.

Worman is an owner and developer based in Kelowna, BC. Since 1992, they have been working tirelessly to set a new standard for modern construction with enduring features that are unique and timeless. Worman buildings have a distinct character that is readily recognized and admired. From the overall concept to the finest detail, the company approaches their projects with the same level of purpose and drive for perfection. Worman has worked on multiple commercial and residential projects in Kelowna, all designed to enhance the community, the neighbourhoods, and provide a meaningful experience for those who spend time in their buildings.

“CPCI is pleased to present this award to Worman for their vision, leadership and innovative use of precast concrete and for helping to expand the precast concrete industry in the real estate development community,” says Robert Burak, CPCI President.

The CPCI Real Estate Development Award of Excellence recognizes outstanding contribution to the Canadian precast prestressed concrete industry in; real estate development, innovation, education, sustainability and change; for positive leadership, industry-altering development and expansion; and for accelerating the growth of the Canadian precast prestressed concrete industry from within the real estate development community.

CPCI Real Estate Development Award of Excellence celebration is held annually to promote the precast concrete industry within Canada. The award recipients are chosen each year from the region where the CPCI AGM is held. The judging panel this year consisted of CPCI Staff, the CPCI Chairman of the Board, Zoran Stanojevic from Surespan Structures, BC and the CPCI BC Chapter Members.
